The Power of Focus: An Introduction to Life Planning

Steve Moore, Presenter

One of the characteristics of effective leaders at any level is an increasing clarity of life purpose that informs life-choices and enables the strategic prioritization of ministry opportunities. But this level of focus does not happen automatically. Reflect on what you did yesterday for a few moments, noting how and with whom you spent your time. If every day going forward were a repeat of yesterday, how likely is it you would fulfill God's purpose and leave behind the legacy you desire?

This webinar will lay a foundation for effective life planning by:

- framing expectations against a biblical example
- defining a focused life and introducing the core building blocks
- introducing a simple self-assessment that informs the level of urgency you should have about greater focus
- providing an overview of a life-planning model

Steve Moore is President and CEO of The Mission Exchange.
